Dear Parishioner,

Greetings! On Wednesday, (March 4th) we begin the season of Lent. Lent is a period of forty days during which the church invites us to prepare spiritually for the commemoration and celebration of Christ's suffering, death and resurrection.

Our Lady of Victories parish wishes to assist you in that spiritual journey through the following means:

Each Tuesday evening, beginning March 10th, a Catholic Faith Study Series will be held in the Upper Room of the convent (the building west of the church) at 7:00pm. The program is known as the DeSales Program and consists in a video presentation with questions and answer period. Our facilitator is Mrs. Eleanor Juhl. The series being presented is - Morality & Forgiveness. Mrs. Juhl is a member of our parish, has just retired, is a graduate of Marquette University, Wisconsin (Jesuit). We appreciate her assistance with this program.

Each Wednesday evening, beginning on Ash Wednesday and each Wednesday following at 7:00pm, Father Art Sullivan will conduct a "Mini-Mission". This will consist in the celebration of the Mass and a sermon. Father Sullivan is known to all of us - assists with weekend and weekday Masses - and spent most of his priesthood conducting parish missions. We are most grateful to him for his assistance. (NOTE - Ash Wednesday's mini-mission will begin at 6:00pm).

Each Thursday evening, beginning Thursday 5th March (day following Ash Wednesday), we will celebrate the Way of the Cross followed by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament - at 7:00pm.

Please take note of this Lenten schedule and make every effort to participate. This will serve as a special spiritual preparation for Easter. The Sunday bulletin will remind us of these events each week.

You have been very generous with your time in responding to different programs in the past and I feel confident of your participation in these.

You have a special remembrance in our Masses and prayers each day. Please remember us in yours.

May God Bless You,

Rev. Patrick McDermott

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF BIOGRAPHY

Thomas was said to have served in Siberia with the American Expeditionary Forces in 1918 and 1919, but his discharge papers do not verify this.

In 1947 Mr. Thomas planned and executed the first American Brahman Congress which was held in Sarasota, Florida, that October, and was attended by people from all over the world. Two years later he organized and was chairman of the American Brahman Centennial held at Charleston, South Carolina.

Memberships were held by Mr. Thomas with the Fort Myers, Florida, Board of Realtors; the Florida Association of Real Estate Brokers; the National Association of Real Estate Brokers; and the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers. He was president and a director of the American Berkshire Association, a director of the American Brahman Breeders Association, a director and vice president of the Sarasota County Livestock Association, and vice president of the Florida Cattleman's Association. In addition, Mr. Thomas was cofounder, president and a director of the Eastern Brahman Breeders Association, a cofounder and director of the Hendry County Fair and Livestock Association. He was a past commander of the Sarasota Bay Post of the American Legion, having served in that capacity when the Legion Coliseum was built, and a trustee of the Dana-Howard-Weekly Post at LaBelle. He served three times as commander of the Sarasota Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and was the state senior vice commander three times. Mr. Thomas was also a member of the Elks.

An all-round athlete during his youth, he played football and baseball and participated in track and field meets. He was a member of the 1912 United States Olympic track team. During high school and college, he played football and for two years was with the Frankford (Pennsylvania) Yellow Jackets, the forerunners of the Philadelphia Eagles. He enjoyed fox hunting and was keenly interested in everything pertaining to the West. Radio Station WSPB in Sarasota saluted Mr. Thomas on behalf of the Sarasota Automobile Dealers Association in 1951.

Milton R. Thomas was married in Memphis, Tennessee, October 18, 1928, to Frankye Cobb, the daughter of the Honorable Madison Stanley and Edith Lyle (Irvin) Cobb of Hot Springs, Arkansas. Her father was an educator, lawyer and Federal judge in the Indian Territory. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas became the parents of two sons: 1. Benjamin Rapp II. 2. Joseph Horn.

Mr. Thomas died in Clewiston, Florida, October 20, 1968. Dedicated to the principles of brotherhood, he possessed a hatred, not of people, but of attitudes and barriers to understanding which we so often incorrectly call "stupidity."

LOCKARD, James Nicholas, M.D.

Prominent in medical circles at Pascagoula, Mississippi, James Nicholas Lockard, M.D., practiced in that city for four decades, and was a founder of the Singing River Hospital there. A Fellow of the Southeastern Surgical Congress, he was active in various professional groups.

James Nicholas Lockard was born in Meridian, Mississippi, January 13, 1899, the son of James Edward and Sara Catherine (Thompson) Lockard. His father, a businessman, was born in 1862 and died in 1951. A civic leader, he worked toward the consolidation of six schools in Vancleave, Mississippi, and the result was one of the first consolidated schools in the country. The paternal grandfather, Edward (Ned) Lockard, was captured during the Civil War, but escaped and walked to his home in Alabama. He was married to the former Amanda Chandler. One of his slaves, when released, took the Lockard name. Dr. Lockard's maternal ancestors were prominent in Caswell County, North Carolina. A great-uncle was Jacob Thompson, who served as Secretary of the Interior under President Buchanan.

After graduating from Vancleave High School, Dr. Lockard enrolled at the University of Mississippi, where he received his Bachelor of Science degree in 1919. His Doctor of Medicine degree was granted by Tulane University in 1923, and then until 1926, he served a surgical residency at the Touro Infirmary in New Orleans under the preceptorship of the celebrated Dr. Rudolph Matas.

It was in 1926 that Dr. Lockard established his general practice in medicine and surgery at Pascagoula, Mississippi, where he continued for the duration of his career. An organizer of the Singing River Hospital in Pascagoula, he was a former president of its medical staff and for many years was its only surgeon.

Membership was held by Dr. Lockard with the Pascagoula Rotary Club. During World War I, he was at the University of Mississippi, serving there with the United States Army Medical Corps until the war's end, when he received his honorable discharge. He was physician for the United States Coast Guard base at Pascagoula from 1928 until it was discontinued by the government.

Dr. Lockard was a Fellow of the Southeastern Surgical Congress, a past president of the Coast Counties Medical Society and a charter member of the Gulf Coast Clinical Society. Additional professional memberships were held by Dr. Lockard with the American and Mississippi State Medical associations. He was a member of the Masons, the Elks and the American Legion, and his fraternities were Sigma Chi and Nu Sigma Nu. For many years he was a vestryman and member of St. John's Episcopal Church. Politically he supported the Democratic Party. For recreation he enjoyed fishing and golf, and he was an avid football fan. Dr. Lockard always took pleasure in attending medical conventions.

For his faithful and voluntary service without compensation Dr. Lockard was presented with the Selective Service Medal by President Truman. In 1962 he received a plaque in appreciation of his thirty years of faithful and distinguished service to Singing River Hospital.

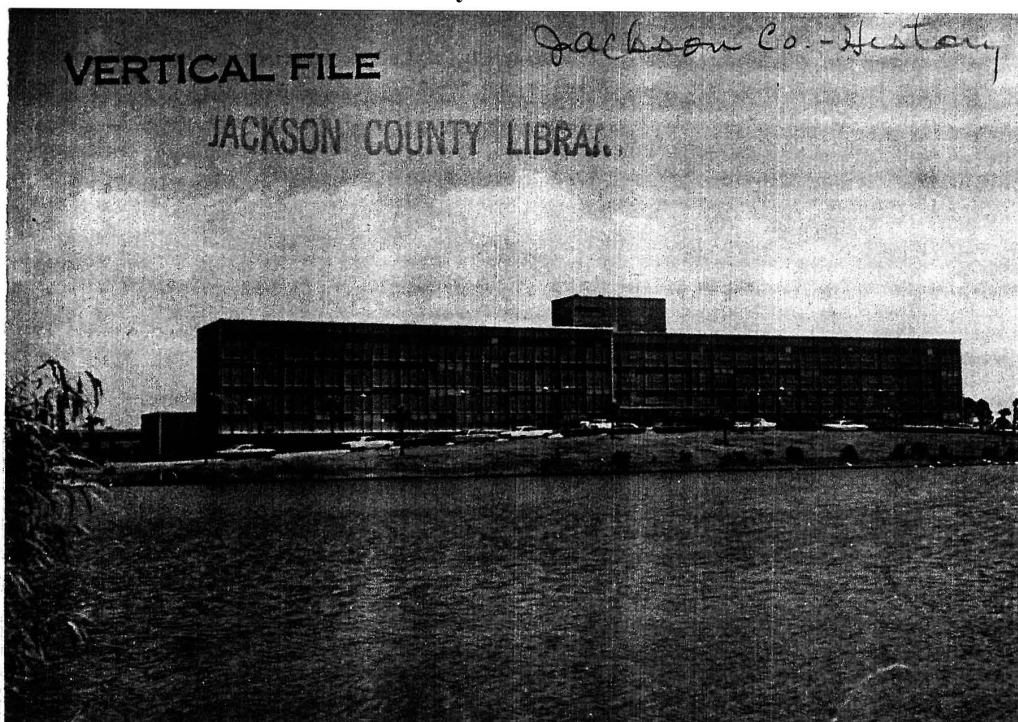

James Nicholas Lockard was married in Pascagoula, Mississippi, June 4, 1928, to Gladys Clinton, the daughter of Frederick Lanark and Mabel (Smith) Clinton of that community. Her father was in the export lumber business. Dr. and Mrs. Lockard became the parents of two children: 1. Clinton Edward, an attorney in Pascagoula. 2. Catherine, who married Harry Franklin Hoke, Jr., M.D., a pathologist in Richmond, Virginia.

Dr. Lockard died at Pascagoula, Mississippi, June 16, 1966. During his final stay in the hospital he was attended by ministers and priests from all churches, and at his funeral people from all walks of life paid their last respects to their beloved physician, friend and confidant. An oil portrait of Dr. Lockard now hangs in the lobby of the Singing River Hospital, and in his memory, an altar has been erected in the chapel of St. John's Episcopal Church.

McILWAIN, Stova Barron, M.D.

Long prominent in the medical world of Southern Mississippi, Stova Barron McIlwain, M.D., of Pascagoula recorded a notable professional career of fifty-six years. Active in that city for nearly half a century, he played a leading role in the establishment of two hospitals and pioneered in the use of X-ray photography in the area. For close to fifty years he was a constant and dedicated worker in the affairs of the First Baptist Church of Pascagoula.

The McIlwain family was established in the United States about the year 1800, by Jimmie and Sarah (Pullie) McIlwain who came from Ireland to settle in South

Dr. Stova Baron McIlwain – 1887-1967

Dr. Stova Baron McIlwain was born in Waynesboro, Mississippi on July 21, 1887. Dr. McIlwain received his pre-medical education at South Mississippi College and his M.D. at Mississippi Medical College. He did post graduate work at New York Poly Clinic Hospital, the University of Tennessee, and Tulane University.

Dr. McIlwain was a beloved physician in the Pascagoula area for nearly half a century. He came to Pascagoula in 1918, making the number of physicians here total four. He offered countless contributions to the community and tended the medical needs of thousands. He served as Master of Pascagoula Masonic Lodge, as Patron of the Eastern Star, and as President of the Rotary Club.

Dr. McIlwain was a member of and President of the Coast Counties Medical Society, a member of and Vice-President of the Mississippi Medical Association, a member of Southern Medical Association, and a member of the American Medical Association. He was given special recognition and made a member of the 50 Year Club of the Mississippi Medical Association.

Dr. McIlwain was instrumental in the establishment of Jackson County Hospital and served as Chief of Staff and on the Building Committee of Singing River Hospital.

Dr. McIlwain was a lifetime deacon of the First Baptist Church and was a member of the church Building Committee. First Baptist Church is planning the construction of a chapel in his memory. His lifetime was devoted to Christianity and its principles.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Fannie McIlwain; three children, Mrs. Baylous Stokes, Mr. R. B. McIlwain and Mr. Julius C. McIlwain, and seven grandchildren.

Meridian Miss Sept 23/93
Mr W^m Thompson,
Oxford, Miss.
Dear Sir:-

I suppose you are acquainted with the fact, that I have been visiting your daughter (Miss Kate) with the view of matrimony. Her consent I have, and I now write to get your consent and approval of our marriage. I am a perfect stranger to you, therefore I feel that it is my duty to give you some reference as to my character and ability to support your daughter as she deserves. I refer you to any one in Meridian, that you may feel disposed to inquire. The time decided upon is some time in November next, No particular day has been chosen.

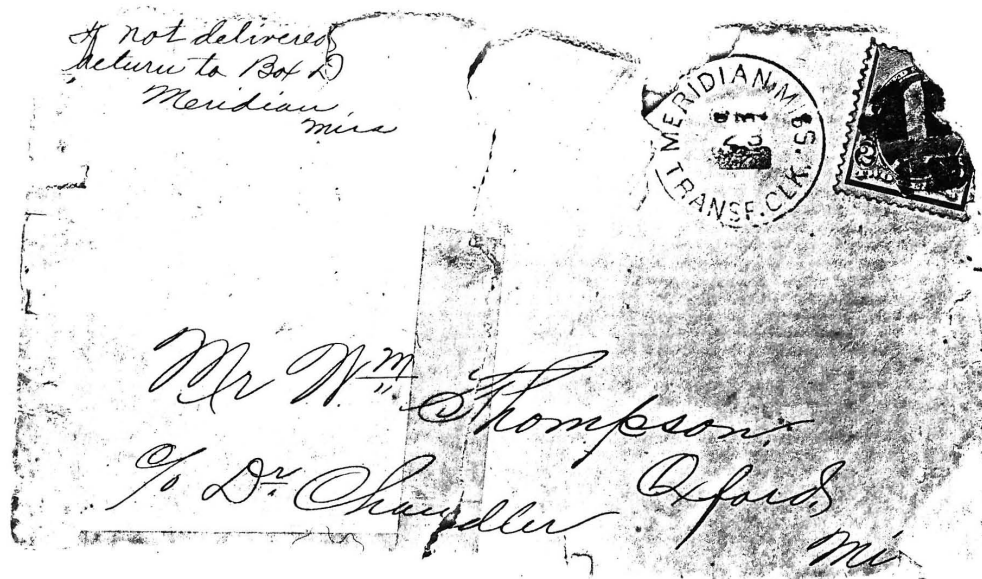

I sincerely ~~hope~~ that you will call all your friendly feeling together in considering

The proposal I have laid before you, in which my happiness is completely concerned,

Anxiously awaiting the result of your consideration on this important and interesting subject, I am,

Yours Most Faithful,

2 Hosts At Luncheon Feting Miss Lockard

Mrs. T. S. Leatherbury and Mrs. P. A. Thompson were hostesses June 29 at a luncheon honoring the former Miss Catherine Lockard, Pascagoula bride-elect.

The Leatherbury home was setting for the event where a color scheme of blue and white was carried out in the dining room. A blue cloth covered the table which was centered with double wedding rings and accented with blue and pink flowers.

Guests were presented miniature sachets as favors.

Sharing the occasion with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. J. N. Lockard, and her bridesmaids.

Portraits of deceased judges unveiled

Portraits of four deceased Jackson County judges were unveiled Friday by the Jackson County Bar Association as dozens of family members looked on.

Also attending the ceremony in the big circuit courtroom was artist Cecile Higdon Stephens, who was commissioned by the bar association to paint the portraits of former circuit judges Merle F. Palmer, Clinton Lockard and Robert "Sonny" Mills and former county court judge O.L. "Pete" McLeod. The portraits will be hung in the courtroom.

Bar President Jim Hull welcomed family members and others who attended and introduced John Kinard, who headed the Portrait Committee.

Four members of the bar spoke briefly about each judge.

Joe Moore remembered Judge McLeod as "the land lawyer of Jackson County" and a former associate of Bidwell Adams, a noted Mississippi lawyer. McLeod was a member of the law firm which included Karl Wisenberg, Robert Oswald, a former chancery judge, and Lockard.

"He was a student of the law," said Bob Krebs about Judge Mills. Krebs noted that Mills also served as Moss Point city judge, prosecutor and city attorney and said, "He was a judge because he wanted to be, not because he needed to be."

"Judge Lockard was a people's judge," said John Hunter. "He was a private person and a family man." Hunter recalled that Lockard spent 32 years in public service as a Pascagoula city judge, county prosecuting attorney, district attorney and judge.

Roy Pike said that Judge Palmer at age 21 was the youngest person ever admitted to the Mississippi Bar Association. Pike said that Palmer, a native of Pototoc, completed law school in Washington while working for then-Rep. Theodore Bilbo. Pike said Palmer came to Jackson County in 1945 and was elected county attorney in 1957. He also served in the Mississippi House and Senate.

Ms. Stephens also painted portraits of former chancery judges L.C. Corban and H.P. Heidelberg which hang in the large chancery courtroom, along with a picture of former judge Rex Gordon.

Afternoon marriage unites couple

Terri Louise Brister became the bride of John Thompson Lockard during an afternoon ceremony on Sept. 14 at Our Lady of Victories Catholic Church. The Rev. Patrick McDermott officiated the double ring service.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Edward Brister of Moss Point are parents of the bride. Judge and Mrs. Clinton E. Lockard of Pascagoula are parents of the bridegroom.

Gaylynn Lander provided a program of nuptial music at the organ and accompanied vocalists Shari Pol and Mike Hale. Sandra Cooley directed the wedding.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of white taffetta trimmed in Schiffli and Alencon lace. The bodice featured a sweetheart neckline, both encrusted with lace and demure seed pearls. Her veil was a garland of silk flowers, pearls, and illusion that trailed the cathedral train. She carried a cascade of ivory and mauve silk roses interspersed with lillies of the valley and baby's breath and accented with ivory satin streamers.

Attending the bride were Janet Beall as matron of honor and Marijean Haltom as maid of honor, both of Pascagoula. Bridesmaids were Catherine Lockard and Mimi Lockard of Pascagoula, sisters of the bridegroom; Brenda Cuevas of Kiln, cousin of the bride, and Marla Purdy of Pascagoula.

Amanda Leigh Necaise, cousin of the bride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry L. Necaise of Charleston, S.C., was flower girl. Steven Bennett Mauffray, cousin of the bride and son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston N. Mauffray of Waveland, was ring bearer.

The bridegroom's father stood as best man. Groomsmen included the bridegroom's brother, Tommy Lockard of Pascagoula; the bride's brother, Tim Brister of Moss Point; Mack Haltom Jr., William M. Moore, and Chet Eselin, all of Pascagoula. Ushers and candlelighters were Michael Pol of Pascagoula and Lanark Lockard of Jacksonville, S.C., brother of the bridegroom.

A reception was held at the Pascagoula Elks Lodge, directed by Ms. Cooley. Assisting were Elaine Mauffray and Ruby Pardue of Calera, Ala., Norma Cuevas of Kiln, Clarine Mauffray of Waveland, all aunts of the bride; Margaret Cuevas of Bay St. Louis and Barbara Ann Cameron of Kiln, cousins of the bride; Robbie Cooley of Pascagoula.

After a wedding trip to Perdido Key, Fla., the couple is at home in Pascagoula.

On the eve of the ceremony, the parents of the bridegroom hosted a rehearsal supper at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E.W. Hull of Pascagoula.

LOCKARD

Clinton E. Lockard, 63, Gautier, died Thursday, Jan. 28, 1993 at his home. Born April 15, 1929, in New Orleans, Mr. Lockard was a lifelong resident of Pascagoula. He was Circuit Court Judge with the 19th Circuit Court District. Mr. Lockard attended the Riverside Military Academy and received his BA and LLB from Tulane University and Law Review. Mr. Lockard served in the United States Navy. He had practiced law since 1958, served as Pascagoula City Judge, Prosecuting Attorney for Jackson County, Pascagoula School Board Attorney, and District Attorney, 19th Circuit Court District. Mr. Lockard was admitted to the practice of law in Mississippi, Louisiana, United States District Courts, United States Fifth Circuit and United States Supreme Court. He was a member of the Mississippi State Bar Association, Jackson County Bar Association, Louisiana State Bar Association, American Bar Association (Judicial Administrative Division, State Representative and Ethics Committee), American Judges

Judge Lockard asks for leave of absence

Circuit Judge Clinton Lockard has asked the Mississippi Supreme Court for a medical leave of absence. He is senior judge of the 19th Judicial District made up of George, Greene and Jackson counties.

Judge Lockard

Amy Whitten, clerk to the high court, confirmed that Lockard has made the request — by telephone Friday and by letter received Monday morning.

She said Chief Justice Roy Noble Lee has taken the request under advisement and will decide whether someone will be named to fill in for Lockard.

"Money's always a problem," she replied to a reporter's question. On an earlier occasion, the high court said it did not have the money to provide someone to fill in for a judge on leave.

Jackson County Circuit Court typically has the heaviest docket of the three counties. The next term starts April 13.

Judge fails to obtain OK for medical leave

Circuit Judge Clinton E. Lockard has been denied the medical leave of absence he asked for Friday.

Lockard, senior judge of the judicial district made up of George and Greene counties, had sought leave for the eight weeks of the Lockard

April term of Jackson County Circuit Court.

Mississippi Supreme Court clerk Amy Whitten notified Lockard Tuesday that Chief Justice Roy Noble Lee does not have authority under the law to grant medical leave. Miss Whitten, in the "faxed" notification, said Lockard should notify the chief justice if his health worsens and he has to leave office.

Lockard, a district attorney before election to the circuit court bench 12 years ago, had said he requested the leave to recover from a nagging cough that has been bothering him for weeks.

The jurist said he is withdrawing his request for sick leave. Courthouse sources said Monday that Lockard had removed his personal belongings from his office Friday.

Lockard underwent surgery in November, 1990, for removal of part of a lung. The surgery reportedly was required by a malignancy or lung cancer.

Should Lockard have to leave office because of illness, the governor would appoint a replacement. If he were granted a leave of absence, the chief justice of the Supreme Court would name someone to fill the office on a temporary basis.

attorney in the 19th Judicial and the first to fill the position on a full-time basis, having been elected to that position in 1969.

As the case load in the district grew, Lockard was authorized to hire part-time and later full-time assistants. Mike Moore, now Mississippi's attorney general, and Kathy King, now Circuit Judge Kathy King Jackson, were two of his first full-time assistants.

"He was a dear friend and I already miss him," said Judge Jackson. "I give Clinton credit for my career. He hired me back in 1977 before women were given such opportunities. I was the first woman assistant district attorney in the state. I owe Clinton a lot."

Supreme Court Justice Chuck McRae who was in town for the funeral said: "Clinton, like his father (Dr. Lockard) devoted most of his adult life to serving the people of this county. In my opinion, he served with distinction."

Lockard was an active member of the Jackson County Bar Association and kept abreast of changes in the law by attending various seminars. He served as a delegate from the Mississippi judiciary to the American Bar Association and represented the district on the Executive Committee of the State Trial Judges Association.

He and his former wife, Rosemary, who died of cancer in 1936, raised four boys and two girls. Lockard later married Deborah Millson of Atmore, Ala.

"I thought he was a credit to his profession," said former Jackson County circuit clerk Vertis Ramsay. "I knew him all his life. He was a good judge who attended to his business and he had a mind of his own."

"He has a wonderful family," said Circuit Clerk Joe Martin Jr. "Our sympathy and prayers are for them."

George County Circuit Clerk Wilbur Ward said he has known and worked with Judge Lockard many years. Ward said they became friends during Lockard's first bid for district attorney, which he lost. They remained friends throughout Lockard's terms as a district attorney and as a judge.

"He's been a good friend of mine for a long time. He has served in government in many ways and he served well. He will be greatly missed," Ward said.

Former Circuit Judge Darwin Maples of Lucedale said he had the honor of serving with Lockard during most of his (Maples') 28 years as circuit judge. "He was either district attorney or sat on bench with me. He always carried his end of the load. He was a hard worker and I feel he always did what he felt was right. I regret he had to go through the problems he had with his illness," Maples said.

Funeral service will be at 1 p.m. Saturday from Our Lady of Victories Catholic Church in Pascagoula. The wake will be tonight from 6 to 9 p.m. at O'Bryant-O'Keefe Funeral Home.

Judge Lockard dies of cancer after long fight

By DON BRODUS

Mississippi Press Staff

Circuit Court Judge Clinton Lockard died Thursday after a lengthy bout with lung cancer. He was 63.

Lockard was elected circuit judge in the 19th Judicial District in 1978 and served in that capacity until his death, although he has not been active for more than a year due to ill health.

Robert Oswald, former law partner of Lockard's and former chancery court judge, said Lockard set a good example for those in the law profession and life in general. "We lost a mighty good man," Oswald said. "He always did what he thought was proper and right."

A native of Pascagoula, Lockard was the son of the late Dr. J.N. Lockard and Mrs. Lockard.

He attended public schools in Pascagoula and received his bachelor's and law degrees from Tulane University. Lockard practiced law in New Orleans for a year before opening a private practice in Pascagoula in 1959.

Lockard served as Pascagoula city judge for two years and as Jackson County prosecuting attorney from 1963 to 1968.

He was the second district

JACOB LOCKARD STRUCK TWICE BY LIGHTNING

Jacob Lockard, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lockard of Vancleave, was struck twice by lightning the past week end. On Saturday afternoon he received a mild shock as a bolt crashed nearby. On Sunday about noon, while standing in front of his home a bolt hit him, striking him in the head and knocking him unconscious for about thirty minutes. He is said to be suffering no ill effects of the unusual experience.

No visible marks were left by the lightning with the exception of a small burned place on the top of his head. An onlooker who saw the lightning strike, stated that it looked like a ball of fire gathered around Mr. Lockard's head. The old saying that lightning does not strike twice in the same place does not hold good with respect to the human race is the conclusion of the Vancleave man. It was raining very little at the time he was struck.

MAN FOUND DEAD SUPPOSED FROM LIGHTNING BOLT

Coroner's Jury Says Ellwood Joseph Furney Died Sunday Morning,
Being Struck by Lightning.

Coroner H. A. Falls, Sheriff Braxton Wilson and County Attorney W. Bullard were called to the Jacobs section, on the back bay between Ocean Springs and Biloxi, on Wednesday morning to hold an inquest over the body of a man found dead on a neighborhood road near the old paved Back Bay road.

After an investigation by the officers, and an identification by his father, the dead man was found to be Ellwood Joseph Furney, aged 23 years, son of J. H. Furney, and it is supposed that he was killed by lightning on the morning of Sunday, May 17, as that was the last time he was seen alive. That

He also leaves five brothers, Henry and David Smith of this city, Joe and George Smith of Seattle and Jack Smith of Washington. The latter is in his 90th year.

Mr. Smith was a member of several fraternal organizations and a leading union man, being district representative of the Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators of America.

The body will be brought to Pascagoula on No. 4 Friday morning, funeral arrangements, not having been announced at the time the Chronicle's forms close.

CARD OF THANKS.

We take this means of extending thanks to Rev. John Chipman, the members of the Woodmen of the World and of the Carpenters and Joiners Union, as well as our neighbors and friends for the many kindnesses and attentions bestowed upon us during our recent great bereavement in the death of our husband and father, Mr. Peter Smith. The sympathy and help of these good people will ever be remembered with the deepest gratitude.

Respectfully,

MRS. PETER SMITH

A life of public service

The death of Circuit Judge Clinton E. Lockard leaves a void in the public sphere which will be hard to fill.

Lockard devoted most of his life to public service. As a young attorney he served as judge of the Pascagoula Municipal Court and as Jackson County prosecuting attorney. He later was elected district attorney of the 19th Judicial District and later circuit judge of the 19th district.

Judge Lockard

Perhaps Supreme Court Justice Chuck McRae summed up Lockard's public service record best when he said:

"Clinton, like his father, (Dr. J.N. Lockard) devoted most of his adult life to serving the people of Jackson County. He served them with distinction."

Former chancery Judge Robert Oswald put it another way: "Judge Lockard set a good example for those in the legal profession and for life in general. He always did what he felt was proper and right."

"He always carried his share of the load," said former fellow circuit Judge Darwin Maples. "He did what he thought was the right thing."

Circuit Judge Kathy King Jackson credited Lockard with her career. Lockard hired her in 1977 as the first woman assistant district attorney in the state.

"He will be missed," she said.

Lockard truly will be missed and that's about the best that any of us can hope for.

WILEY HOWELL

Died - Uncle Wiley Howell, one of the oldest settlers of this part of the country, died at his home in the Refuge Community last Saturday at 3 o'clock and was buried Sunday in the Refuge Cemetery. He was a member of the Methodist Church and was filled with the old time Christian spirit, believed in the old way of "by their works ye shall know them" and lived accordingly. Uncle Wiley was well known throughout this country, having lived here practically all his life, had lived in the old home where he spent the greater part of his life for more than fifty years. For some years past he had been in bad health and rarely, if ever went out except to church; but on several occasions, he enjoyed the day with his old friends who would meet with him for a family reunion or some other occasion, and no one enjoyed these visits more than he did by his immediate family.

He is survived by two brothers, Pete Howell of this place, and C. S. Howell, of Oak Grove; and a number of grandchildren and other relatives and to these the Times extends sympathy. In his death they lose a devoted brother, father and grandfather, and George County loses one of its best citizens.

Clinton, Frederick Lanark

Nov. 11, 1937

DEATH OF CAPT. F. L. CLINTON

Frederic Lanark Clinton, aged 68 years, a native of Lowestoff, England, and a resident of Moss Point and Pascagoula since he was nineteen years of age, died at his home at 427 Tucker street, Pascagoula, on Tuesday, November 9, about one o'clock in the afternoon, from a pistol wound in his head, apparently inflicted by his own hand.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock from late home of deceased, with interment in Machpelah cemetery, the following being the pall bearers: H. P. Heidelberg, W. B. Herring, H. H. Colle, John R. Watts, Fred Taylor and V. P. DeJean. The service at the home was conducted by Rev. E. G. Maxted, members of the Masonic Lodge conducting the service at the grave. A large number of friends of the family assembled at the home and followed the remains to the grave, where many beautiful and fragrant floral offerings covered the last resting place of the dead, mute but eloquent testimonials of esteem and sympathy.

Captain Clinton was in his earlier life a sailmaker, and as such became interested in shipping out of this port. Later he and some associates built a large lumber schooner, which he commanded a number of years, carrying cargoes of lumber to South and Central American ports. He became interested in the lumber business, and associating himself with the Dantzers in buying and selling lumber, became one of the leading men in that line in this section. At one time he was a director of the Pascagoula National Bank. Of late years he has been engaged in buying and selling bonds, having an office in New Orleans; to which city he moved for a few years, coming back to Pascagoula two years ago.

Deceased is survived by his widow, to whom he was married about forty years ago, two daughters and one son. Mrs. J. N. Lockard of Pascagoula, Mrs. Houston Duvall and Clarence Clinton of New Orleans; also two grandchildren.

Many friends will join this paper in expressions of heartfelt sympathy for the family in their tragic bereavement.
